DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," "The present invention" etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Homrig, U. S. Patent 1,118,488. Homrig teaches an advertising device comprising a main panel portion having a depiction of a hand b and a field a for receiving a sign, and an appendage portion in the form a figure c extending from the main panel portion to point to an item such as a garment. The field a for receiving has a printed message thereon.
4. Claims 1, 3, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jervis, Sr., U. S. Design Patent 308,229. Jervis teaches an advertising device comprising a main panel portion having a depiction of woman and a field for receiving a signage hanging from the arm of the woman, wherein the arm extends from the main panel portion to point to an item. The sign taught by Jervis is blank.

5. Claims 1, 3, and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McKee, U. S. Design Patent 360,653. McKee teaches an advertising device comprising a main panel portion depicting of hand and a field for receiving a signage in the palm of the hand, wherein the figure extends from the main panel portion to point to an item. The sign taught by McKee is blank. McKee also teaches the sign has a front and rear side, wherein the hand, field for receiving a signage, and figure appear on both the front and rear side of the main portion.

Conclusion

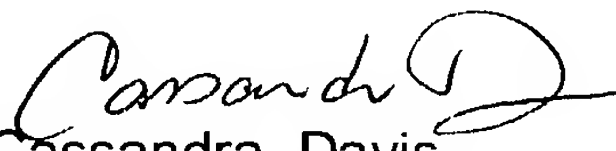

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. West, U. S. Patent 27,057 is cited to show a sign in the form of a human with a blank scroll for receiving signage.
